

Identify technical knowledge vineyard owners to the harvest and post-harvest activities and factors affecting

Mohana Shahmoradi^{1*}, Tahereh Maleki², Fatemeh Sasani³, Mariyeh Sahraie⁴, Ronak Lotfi Dehlaghi⁵

^{1, 2, 3, 4.} M.Sc. Student, Department of Agricultural Extension and Rural Development, Razi University, Kermanshah, Iran

^{5.} Graduated of Department of Agricultural Extension and Rural Development, Razi University, Kermanshah, Iran
shahmorade4468@yahoo.com

Kermanshah Province is one of the leading manufacturers in the country, is a grape product .promotion and development of agriculture is located. Meanwhile, the level of technical knowledge in the field, harvest and post-harvest vineyard owners, in order to eliminate information gaps they are necessary. Therefore, this study aimed to identify the level of technical knowledge to the vineyard owners to harvest and post-harvest activities and its influencing factors in Kermanshah city took place. Vineyard owners in Kermanshah city Bylvar district, cluster sampling method, the sample in this study formed. The findings suggest that the level of technical knowledge is desirable vineyard owners. The grower education, horticulture degree of experience and technical knowledge of the factors affecting these farmers are.

Key Words: technical knowledge, vineyard owners, factors, Kermanshah city.